Result of the Sanyo Group Sustainability Report 2007 Questionnaire Survey

The following is the result of the questionnaire survey on Sanyo Group Sustainability Report 2007 (published in September 2007). We have utilized our readers' valuable feedback to produce the Sustainability Report 2008 and improve the Group's environmental and social activities. Thank you very much.

Your position as the reader of Sanyo Group Sustainability Report 2007

1. Could you understand the Sanyo Group's environmental and social activities? And, how do you evaluate them?

2. Major opinions and impressions received regarding the Sustainability Report 2007 and Sanyo Group's environmental and social activities and our response to them

- Due to the fact that some environmental data is given for only one year and there is no data given for previous years it is difficult to make any judgment regarding an activity.
 - For data that is deemed to be the most important in regards to each environmental activity, every effort has been made to display data from previous years so that comparison is possible. To find past data which has not been included please refer to previous issues on the website.
- Regarding occupational health and safety, don't you think that you need to include the number of recurrence prevention measures taken and evaluation based on the level of disaster?
 - From FY 2007 risk assessment for occupational health and safety was implemented. We are now considering providing information about the activities etc. promoted based on the results of the assessment.
- I want Sanyo to participate even more in community activities.
- I would like to see pictures of Sanyo interacting with communities, if available.
 - Sanyo promotes social contribution activities focusing on environmental conservation, youth development, and employee volunteer activity support, which are once again reported in "Sustainability Report 2008." An increased amount of information about Sanyo's overseas activities is also provided.
- I want Sanyo to continue to develop products friendly to the environment and children and to be involved in activities to serve the environment and children.
- I want to see Sanyo make even more environmentally-conscious products.
- Please continue your activities related to environmental conservation, human resource utilization, and community support, and develop products consistent with them.
 - To facilitate the understanding of Sanyo's effort to create environmentally-conscious products, in "Sustainability Report 2008" we included the feature "Product Creation to Help Realize a Sustainable Society" and also introduced as many of Sanyo's environmentally-conscious products as possible.
